

Relationship Timeline & How It Started — Interview Practice Questions

(answer truthfully; don't guess if unsure).

1) Meeting story (the “origin” details)

- When and where did you first meet (city + exact place: event, work, online app, mutual friend's home)?
- What was the first conversation about?
- Who approached who first?
- Who was with you that day (friends/family/coworkers)?
- What did you notice first about them (keep it natural and specific)?
- Did you exchange phone numbers/social media that same day? How?

2) If you met online (if applicable)

- Which app/site/platform?
- Who messaged first and what did it say (rough idea, not word-for-word)?
- When was the first in-person meet-up and where?
- Who suggested meeting in person?
- Any screenshots/photos saved? Where are they stored?

3) Early dating phase

- When did you start “dating officially” (approx date/month)?
- Who asked to make it official and where did that happen?
- What were your first few dates (place/activity)?
- Who paid on early dates (or how did you split)?
- How often did you see each other in the first month?

4) Communication habits early on

- How did you communicate most (text, calls, FaceTime/WhatsApp)?
- Who tended to call more?
- Did you talk every day early on? If not, how often?
- What time of day did you usually talk (morning, after work, late night)?

5) Important “firsts”

- First time you met each other's friends—when and where?
- First time you met each other's family—who, when, and where?
- First holiday spent together (which holiday and where)?
- First trip together (where and when)?
- First time you cooked together or ate a home-cooked meal together—what was it?

6) “I love you” and relationship seriousness

- Who said “I love you” first?
- Where were you and what was the moment/context?
- How long had you been together at that point (roughly)?
- When did you first discuss a future together (moving in, marriage, kids)?

7) Moving in together

- Who brought up moving in first?
- Why did you decide to move in at that time (rent, commute, relationship progress)?
- When did you move in together (month/year)?
- Where did you move from (each person's prior living situation)?
- Who signed the lease / whose name(s) are on it?
- What did you move in first (bed, clothes, kitchen stuff)?
- Any memorable detail about move-in day (truck, help from friend, first night)?

8) Engagement and proposal details

- When did you start seriously talking about marriage?
- Who proposed—or was it a mutual decision?
- Engagement date (or approximate month/year if unsure).
- Proposal location and who was present.
- Was there a ring? Where did it come from (store/online/family ring)?
- Did you celebrate right after (dinner, family calls)? Who did you tell first?

9) Decision to marry (the “why now” questions)

- Why did you decide to get married when you did?
- Was there a specific event that made it feel right (family, stability, timing)?
- Did you discuss finances, living plans, children, religion?
- Any pre-marital counseling or discussions with a religious leader?

10) Timeline anchor points (for consistency)

- What were your addresses when you met?
- Where were you working at the time you met?
- What season was it (winter/summer) and what was the weather like?
- What phone numbers did you use then (if same/different)?
- Major life event around that time (job change, school, move, family event)?

11) Reality-check questions (recent and specific)

- What was the last thing you did together outside the house?
- What did you do for your most recent date night?
- What's a small habit you learned about them early (coffee order, bedtime routine)?
- What's a funny early memory you both remember the same way?

12) Practice drill: tell the story in 60 seconds

- Can each of you explain the relationship timeline in a simple 60-second version: how you met → when dating started → when moved in → engagement → decision to marry.

Tip: If you're not sure about a detail, it's better to say "I don't remember exactly" than to guess.
